Conscience Globale

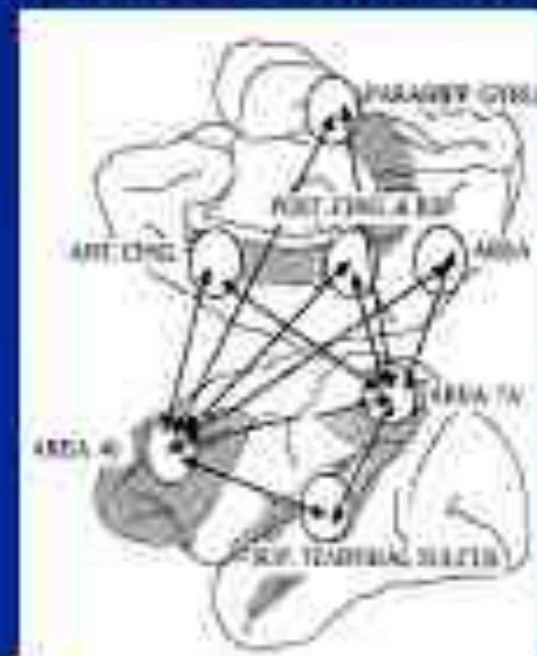

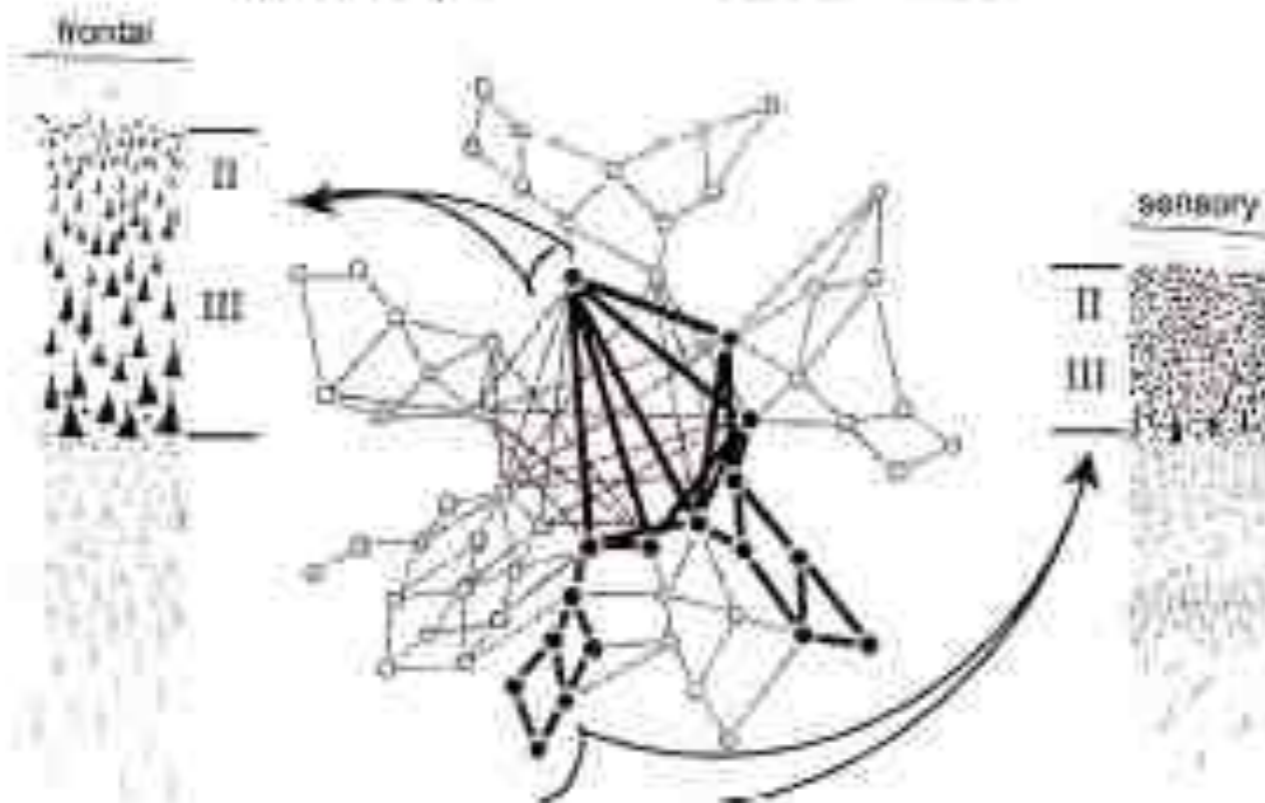

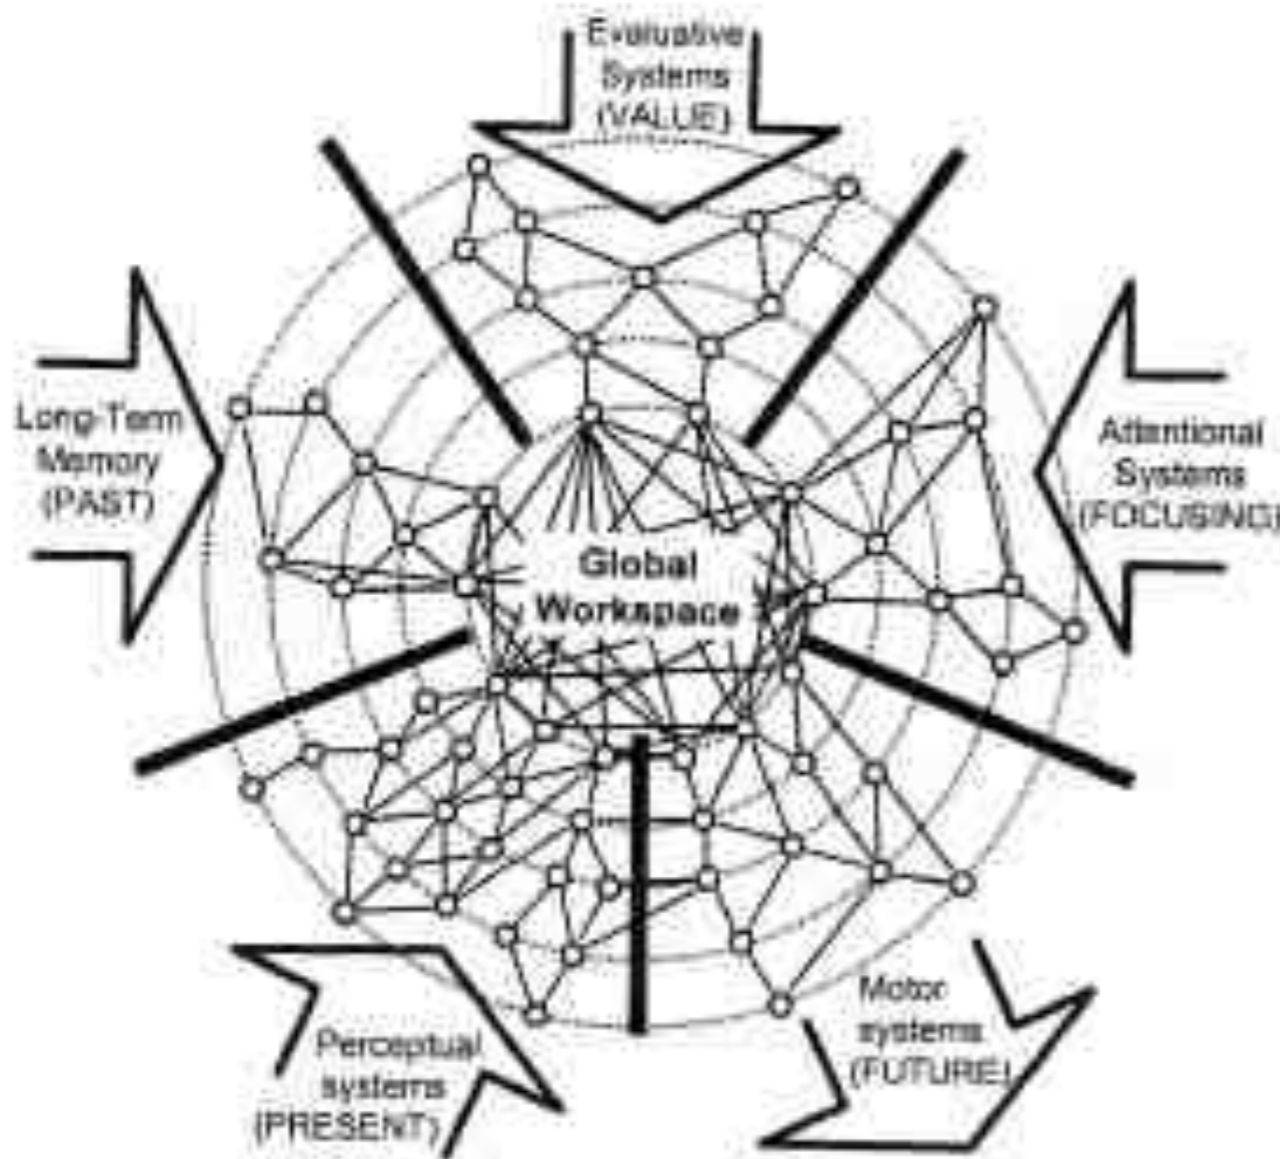

Le modèle de l'espace de travail neuronal global

Dehaene, Kertszberg & Changeux, PNAS 1995

Deux espaces computationnels

1) Les processeurs spécialisés modulaires, encapsulés et automatiques

2) un espace global formé de neurones à axones longs capables de diffuser l'information à des aires très distantes, ce qui conduit à une expérience subjective synthétique et rapportable

Le potentiel de préparation motrice

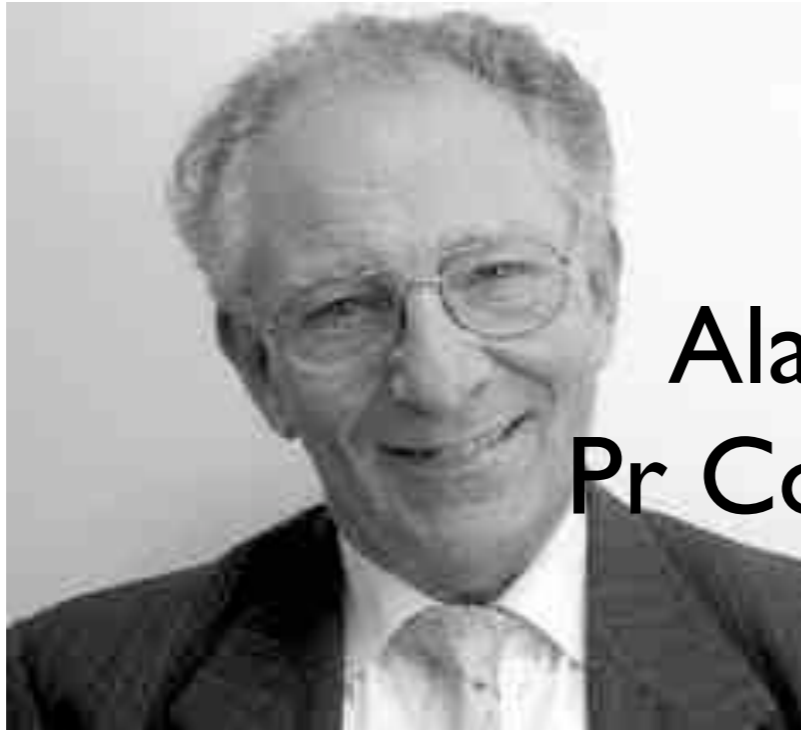

« readiness potential »
